SEAKEEPER BRINGS ON NEW ASIAN DISTRIBUTOR

Boat builders and owners across Asia are insisting on Seakeeper gyro stabilization systems. To keep up with demand, the company has appointed Twin Disc Far East Limited as its newest distributor for the continent. Seakeeper VP of sales and marketing John Kermet made the announcement.

Twin Disc Far East will cover China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, South Korea, Taiwan and Thailand. A subsidiary of Twin Disc, Inc., the company supplies transmissions, electronic controls, boat management systems and other equipment to the commercial, pleasure craft and military segments of the marine market.

"Twin Disc Far East has been an excellent addition to our international sales force," said Kermet. "They're already employing their long-standing business relationships to help expand our presence in Asia."

Established in 2002, Seakeeper is the world leader in internal gyro stabilization technology. Highly effective over a range of conditions, its state-of-the-art products virtually eliminate boat rock and roll, providing unmatched onboard comfort.
