SEAKEEPER BRINGS ON NEW SALES DIRECTOR

After impressive installations in Marine Group Boat Works' 114' US Navy Range Training Support Crafts (RTSC-110) and other workboats around the world, Seakeeper has hired Thomas (T.J.) Tracy to keep up with demand. He will serve as the new director of commercial and military sales.

Most recently, Tracy served as vice president of sales and marketing for Zodiac of North America. In this position, he was responsible for all commercial and military sales to the US, Mexico, Central America, Caribbean and Israel.

Rough seas can lead to uncomfortable conditions or even lost days on the water for commercial, military and fishing crews. The advanced Seakeeper Gyro Stabilization Systems deliver a powerful righting force that virtually eliminates boat rock and roll, reducing time spent at port. Actively controlled, the gyros optimize torque and are highly effective over a range of conditions to supply superior stability at anchor, zero and low speeds, as well as while underway.
